(SUWANEE, Ga. – January 2025) Visitors to the DEVELON exhibit at The ARA Show 2025 can learn more about the DTL35 compact track loader and its benefits for the rental industry.

“Compact track loaders like the DTL35 are important for the rental industry in North America because of their versatility and adaptability,” says Moo Young Park, senior engineering manager at DEVELON. “With the right attachments, compact track loaders can be used for a variety of tasks, making them attractive to a broad customer base: from construction and landscaping companies to demolition contractors and utility firms.”

DTL35 applications include excavating, grading, brush cutting, pushing snow and loading trucks.

“Available as an option, the around view monitor (AVM) camera system displays a 270-degree view of the machine’s surroundings,” says Park. “The AVM system increases operator confidence when using the machine in tight work areas or busy job sites. Additionally, ultrasonic proximity sensors further enhance job site safety by alerting operators of nearby objects as they back up the machine.”
